

JO CLARE

Jo has over 20 years' experience in senior and strategic organisational development, change management and HR engagements, primarily within the Aviation and Travel sector. She is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development, and an Executive Coach (ILM 7).

Jo works with organisations to support the development and delivery of the people strategy, ensuring alignment to business objectives, developing culture and delivering development solutions that add value and achieve impact and improve business performance through people. With a strong interest in authentic strengths based leadership and positive psychology, she works collaboratively to engage people and teams to achieve their full potential.

Jo loves to build strong partnerships to ensure high quality and robust solutions. Jo works internationally and values diversity and difference to achieve successful outcomes, she is culturally aware and loves to travel and explore new places. Her working style is collaborative, highly organised and professional but she likes to have fun along the way too, As a coach she is empathetic yet challenging, preferring to get to the root of the issues to develop pragmatic and realistic solutions.